THE MEETING OF THE FARMERS ALLIANCE IN BIRMINGHAM.

THE JUTE BAGGING MEN ARE PRESENT Given Another Day in Which to Perfect Their Offer-The Cotton Mills' Proposition to the Consumers.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 15.-[Special.]-The meeting of organized farmers of the cotton states was called to order at 10 o'clock today by President McCune, of the national alliance. About 100 delegates were present from ten states, every organization of farmers being represented. S. M. Adams, president of the Alalama Farmers' alliance, was elected permanent chairman of the meeting, and E. P. Warren, of Texas, and A. E. Gardner, of Tennessee, secretaries.

A committee composed of one delegate from each state was appointed to confer with the

THE BAGGING TRUST. 1. V. Donophan, of St. Louis, appeared be-fore the committee for the jute bagging trust, and offered to sell jute bagging at 10½ cents per pound. When asked if the trust would make a trust for next season at the price offered, Donophan asked for time to communicate with the other members before re-turning an answer. He was given until tomorrow to submit a final proposition.

The Lane mills, of New Orleans, and the cotton mills at West Point, Ga., Eufaula and Rock mills, Alabama, were represented before the committee, and proposed to enter into

No other business of importance has been brought up before the meeting so far.

The bagging convention, in secret session tonight, had a long and full discussion of the bagging question. The committee on bagging appointed this morning reported and recommended cotton bagging as a hermanent-cover-appointed this morning reported and recommended cotton bagging as a permanent covering for cotton bales. It was shown that this would absorb 125,600 bales of cotton, and insurance on the entire crop would be two million deltars less.

The bagging trust representatives present offered to lay down jute bagging at 12½ cents per yard, against 13 cents, as the cost of cotton bagging. The report of the committee recommending the use of the latter was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted. The convention will continue in session tomorrow, when the question of factories to supply the demand will be considered.

IMPEACHING A JUDGE Because He Once Participated in a Duel.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—[Special.]—The sensation of the day in Memphis is the impeachment of Judge J. J. Dußose, since September, 1886, judge of Shelby county criminal court. The leading cause of impeachment, as recited today in a bill in chancery, is that Dußose was the second of James Brizzolari in the famous duel between Brizzolari and George Phelan, just over the Arkansas line, in July, 1870. By a provision in the state law that went into effect in May, 1870, participation in a duel forever bars the participant from holding public office. Dußose was at that time editor of the Evening Ledger, and the salient points in the chancery Duel. DuBose was at that time editor of the Evening Ledger, and the salient points in the chancery are taken from his own account of the fight. This is the culmination of a bitter controversy between DuBose and Attorney-General George B. Peters. The attorney-general was fined heavily a few days ago by DuBose for contempt of court. All the parties concerned, and there are several movers to the bill, are of the highest standing, and the impeachment is almost the sole topic of discussion on the streets.

Judge Jenks will be re-tained in the service of the government as counsel in the telephone cases. It is expected that an appointment as solicitor-general will be made this week.

Colonel Colyar Misrepresented.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 15.—[Special.]—Colonel A. S. Colyar, in an interview today, repudiates the alleged interview published in the New York World in which he is quoted as saying: "I don't mind saying that I am in sympathy with the movement to form a protective tariff party in the south and it is probable we will be compelled to find our party home in the republican fold." Colonel Colyar says he is for protection, but prefers to fight for it inside the democratic party rather than out of it.

Crop Damaged by Hail. NORFOLK, Va., May 15.—Reports from the hail storm of yesterday afternoon show that great injury was done to the vegetable crops on the western branch. Serious damage seems to have been confined to that section of Norfolk county. Cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, strawberries and green peas, were almost entirely destroyed and potatoes were badly damaged. In cases were the crops were entirely cut down and destroyed, farmers are preparing to replant. Democrats Claim Montana Helrna, Mont., May 15.—The returns from yesterday's election are too incomplete to determine the exact membership of the constitutional convention. As far as received they indicate that the contest will be very close, with the chances in favor of the democrats by a small majority. The labor members from Jefferson county may have the casting vote.

REMEMBERING THE BRAVE DEAD.

Unveiling of a Monument at Charleston-General Hampton's Address.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 15.—The monu-ment to the dead soldiers of the four German companies in the confederate service was dedcated here in Bethany cemetery today. The monument was unveiled by ten little German girls, clad in white, while a German band played a German choral. The dedicating prayer was in German, by Pastor Muller, and the dedication address was delivered by Sena-tor Hampton, in whose lamons legion the German soldiers fought. In his address Senator Hampton said:

afor Hampton said:

We regard our dead as martyrs, and God forbid that any of their living comrates, their descendants to the remotest ages, should brand them as traticos. Words, my friends, are not merely empty sounds: in the domain of history they are things, potent factors, not only in shaping events, but in blacing these events in a true light before the world; and we should never acknowledge that we were robed or trations. That question is to be deeded by the verdict of impartial history and that of posterity, and we may well be satisfied to commit our cause and our conduct to those angust tribinals.

Let me not be understood as discussing the merits of the great conflict which arrayed one section of the country against the other; which wrought such widespread devastation, and which costs on much in treasure and in the loss of so many precious lives. The questions which bronght about that unhappy war has been settled, and he is no true patriot who would strive to kindle the fires of sectional inte, or reopen the wounds which the kind hand of that north, soith, east and west—have but one country and constitution, to both of which our allegiance is dee.

But while we of the south recognize this fact fully, it does not follow that we should refuse to do honor to the memory of our dead comrades. The men who met us in battle would feel a just contempt for us were we base enough to forget these who gave their lives for a cause which they and we believed in our immost hearts to be just and right, We should indeed be time-serving cravers if we allowed the memory of these men—of their untimely death—to pass forever from our hearts, or if we should fail to leave endaring monuments to them as evidences of our love and our gratitude. We can do nothing to show the grateful people's gratitude to our surviving veterans. Poor, old, maimed—broken in heart as in fortune, they are forced to fight life's nard battles unaided. We have no overflewing treasury from which to pension the brave soldiers who gave their aid freely to their state. All was staked on the issue and all was lost. I have no words of censure for the liberality of the north in granting pensions to its soldies. The feeling that poompts-the course is natural, proper and generous, and on all ochasions my support has been freely given in the senate to all applications of this sort, made in deserving cases. Had the conditions of the great eivil war been reversed, we should have dealt as generously with our disabled veteruns on the north has done with heirs; but as losers in the great struggle, we must accept the inevitable results of defeat. These debar us from a recognition of the general ville are been freed to defeat. These debar us from a recognition of the orther of the fight to honor the of defeat. These debarts from a recognition of the services of the brave defenders of our lost cause, but they do not deny to us the right to honor the memory of our dead, and no more sacred duty is imposed on us than that of keeping green in our hearts, and these of our children, the memories of those who fell under the folds of the southern cross. Defeat cannot may the glory of their deeds, nor ever retract from their fame; nor time obliterate the love we cherish for them, and God forbid that it may ever be otherwise with us of the south."

THE CHICAGO SCANDAL.

Investigation of the County Insane

Asylum.
Chicago, May 15. -Judge Prendergast's courtroom was crowded this morning to hear the arguments in the rule against County Agent Farley and Superintendent Kiernan, of the insane asylum, to show cause why Dora Willard should not be released from the asylum. The judge said this was not an investigation of the superintendent, but of the institute itself, and he proposed to find out vestigation of the superintendent, but of the institute itself, and he proposed to find out where the trouble is that has existed for years. Florence Hunt, who has charge of one of the wards at the asylum, was a witness before the investigating committee today. She said she had twenty-nine violent patients under her charge, and but nine rooms for them, and owing to lack offroom she was obliged to put these patients in one room, which made it impossible to guard against murders and suicides; also, that there were about 1,000 patients in the asylum, with an average of one keeper to every twenty-eight prisoners; and further, that this state ef affairs had often been brought to the notice of the county board.

the notice of the county board.

Mrs. Helen Shedd, former president of the Mrs. Helen Shead, former president of the Women's Protective association, took the stand. She said she had visited the asylum on many different occasions, and had remained over night there. She said: "I never slep there and never went through the wards with there and never went through the wards with tut it making me sick. I went there as a well person, but invariably came away sick, One visit there we discovered about fifty patients suffering from scurvy. Looking further we discovered that the inmates were being fed on boiled pigs' heads. That was all they had for a year, I believe. No care was taken even in preparing the outrageous food that was furnished.
"Once a week they had polatoes—that was that was furnished.

"Once a week they had potatoes—that was on Sundays—and when the patients came to the table a scene—which beggars description always occurred. The stronger patients got the potatoes and the weaker went without. This was during the time when Harry Varnell was warden. This condition of things was frequently brought to the attention of the county board."

Second Day's Session at Chattanoo ga-D cussing the Sinking Fund.

cussing the Sinking Fund.

CHATTANOGA, May 15.—The Catholic Knights of America held their second day's session in this city today. The day was occupied almost altogether in the discussion of the perpetuation of the prosent sinking fund of the order. The discussion was general and came up on the report of the special committee appointed at this council two years ago, favoring the assessment of five per cent of the widows' and orphans' benefit fund for purposes of the sinking fund, and providing for classes as to benefits. Views were divergent, some delegates favoring a retention of the classes as to benefits. News were divergent, some delegates favoring a retention of the present system; others of increasing the sinking fund; others of diminishing it and restricting it, and a few of abolishing it. It was finally referred to the law committee, and will come un again. Archbishop Gross, of Oregon, eabled the pope for his blessing. Officers and delegates were tendered a banquet tonight at the Stanton house. The council will reposite the Stanton house. The council will remain in session two days longer.

Bishop Haid Arrives In Raleigh—What He Has to Say.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 15.—[Special.]—Bishop Leo Haid, of this Roman Catholic diocese, has arrived here. Rev. Father Gross, of Charlotte, arrived today. Bishop Haid has appointed him to the church of the Sacred Heart here, to succeed Boyle, who is in jail, charged with the capital crime of rape upon Miss Whitaker. Boyle's crime ex-communicated him and puts him entirely outside the pale of the church. Bishop Haid will, of course, not visit or have anything to do with him. Boyle is in a cell with Parrish, a white man, who is under sentence of death for outraging his own daughter. It was learned this afternoon that a crowd of men went to the jail last night and demanded admission, but left upon being warned to retire.

CONFLICTING EYIDENCE.

There was a good deal of talk today about the action of a negro boy who was the servant of Boyle, and who took the message from Boyle to Miss Whitaker. This boy, whose increase the wages without altering the hours of labor, and the offer may possibly be accepted. A strikers' committee has issued placards urging the strikers to maintain the peace. Placards have been posted in many places warning peaceful citizens to remain in doors after sunset. A number of placards have also been posted, urging strikers to commit violence. These latter are attributed by some to the masters; by others to socialists, and by still others to women opposed to the strike.

COMMITTES AFFOINTED.

After the adoption of the report of the committee on credentials and the calling of the roll, Bishop Beckwith announced the following standing committees:

Constitution and Canon—Rev. Messrs. Hunter and Strong and Messrs. Davidson, Miller and Harrison.

Missions—Rev. J. C. Davis, chairman.

Corporation—Rev. Mr. Winchester and Rev. Mr. Strong, and Messrs. Davidson, Harrison and Waters.

Finance—Messrs. F. H. Miller, J. S. Davidson, Z. D. Harrison, N. F. Tift and G. B. Whitlock. New parishes-Rev. W. R. McConnell, chairman.

State of church—Rev. Messrs. Epps. Hunter,
Pond, Reese and Gass.
After hearing the report of the committee on the state of the church and that of the board of corporation, and referring them to committees, the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock yesterday evening.

committees, the convention adjustment until 8 o'clock yesterday evening.

At 8 o'clock the convention reassembled and was called to order by the bishop, after which the reading of the reports of the deans of the different diocesan convocations was begun.

After hearing the reports of the deans, the matter of the church's missions and missionaries was taken up and discussed. Bishop Beckwith read a short address on the diocesan mission work, urging that action be taken toward reviving interest in this branch of the work, and saying that unless something was done the mission in the smaller towns would die out entirely. He stated that a change in the present method of carrying on the mission work of the church was necessary. the mission work of the church was necessary.
Rev. H. R. Reese, of Cave Spring, read a lengthy report on the needs of the missionary field of the church, which was in accordance neid of the church, which was in accordance with the views of Bishop Beckwith as expressed in his address. The report advocated an ENTRE REVISION OF THE MISSION WORK of the diocese.

Dr. Stringfellow, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who

Dr. Stringfellow, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who was present, was requested, before action was taken on the report on missions, to address the convention on the methods of missionary work practiced by the Alabama diocese, it being a departure from the usual manner of conducting missionary work by the Episcopal church.

Dr. Stringfellow explained the workings of the system in use in Alabama, and as practiced by him in his church at Tuscaloosa. He said that notwithstanding reports to the consaid that notwithstanding reports to the con-trary the mission work in Alabama was in a trary the mission work in Alabama was in a most flourishing condition; that missions that had lapsed er failen off had been re-established and new ones founded, until now there were more Episcopal missions in the state of Alabama than there had ever been before, and he saw no reason why, if Georgia adopted the same system, she could not even cellipse Alabama. He said that the only way to get the same system, she could not even cellipse Alabama. He said that the only way to get the laymen of a church interested in the mission work was to get a layman at the head of the movement, and that was what the Alabama diocese had done. In closing he said that he hoped the Georgia diocese would investigate the Alabama plan further; he was confident that if they adopted it, glorious results would follow.

After hearing from other members on the subject, the convention adjourned to meet at nine o'clock this morning. The Northern Baptists.

The Northern Baptists.

Boston, May 15.—The celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the American Baptist Missionary union was begun today. This is the foreign mission organization of the Baptists of the northern states, having a constituency of 700,000 church members. Its missions are in Burmah, India, Siam, China, Asia, Japan; in Congo valley, west Africa, and in the countries of Europe.

The Southern Presbyterians. CHATTANOOGA, May 15.—The Southern General assembly of the Presbyterian church will eral assembly of the Pressysteran church will meet in this city tomorrow at 11 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian chulch. The assembly will be opened by a sermon from Rev. Dr. Bullock, of Washington, D. C., retiring moderator. An organization will then be effected and the first business meeting will be tomorrow night. ATHENS, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—Athens is perfectly wild with enthusiasm over the fireman's tournament, and visitors from every fireman's tournament, and visitors from every section of the state are united in their praises of the hespitality of Athenians. At 9 o'clock this morning the procession formed and paraded through town. It was fully haif a mile long, and presented a handsome appearance. At the grand stand, on Broad street, the procession halted, and Captain W. A. McDowell, in behalf of the citizens of Athens and of the home firemen, delivered an address of welcome replete with good language and hearty spirit. This was responded to by Captain W. P. Burt, of Americus, Messrs. J. M. Hodge, of Hawkinsville, and Fletcher Johnson, of Gainesville.

son, of Gainesville.

THE REEL RACE
then came off. Seven entries appeared as follows: Wide-Awake of Americus, Planski of Hawkinsville, Planeer of Athens, Bloomfield of Athens, Queen City of Gainesville, Hope of Athens, and the Marietta company. The Wide Awake made it to the plag in 12 seconds, but failed on water, getting as her time 22 1-10 seconds. The Pulaski lowered this and the Pioneer, of, Athens, after a splendid run, dropped the time to 194-5. Everyone thought she had it, but the Bloomfield, of Athens, lowered it to 19 2-5. The Hope ran a close race, making it in 185.

The first prize of $200 was awarded to the Bloomfield, of Athens, and the second to the Hope, of Athens. The Wide Awake took the prize for the quickest time to plug, and the Bloomfield for the quickest connection, connecting in 64-5 seconds.

Hope No. 1 came out victor in 20 1-5 seconds.

In the crab race
Hope No. 1 came out victor in 20 1-5 seconds.
In the six men race Pioneer won in 18 4-5 seconds.
Tonight a grand banquet and ball is to be given at the opera house complimentary to the visiting firemen, and tomorrow more contests will be had.

The Close of the Great Council in Brunswick.

Brunswick, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—The great council of Red Men just closed was an enthusiastic one. The delegates were all given an excursion to St. Simons island today and returned pleased with the trip. They assembled in the parlors of the Ocean hotel tonight and many indulged in speech making the night train for home. All are enthusiastic on the beauties of Brunswick and St. Simons. The elected officers of the great council of the state for the onsuing term are: Great sachem, C. C. Gillet; great chief of records, Jacob Emmel; great keeper of the wampaum, J. S. Johnson; great guard of the wampum; J. P. Roper, Atlanta; great senior sagamore, R. T. Daniels, Griffin; great junior sagamore, S. D. Pitts, Augusta; great prophet, J. T. FORT VALLEY, Ga., May 15.-[Special.]-FORT VALLEY, Ga., May 15.—[Speedal.]—Several weeks ago an experienced waterworks man from Columbus, Ga., made surveys to a cool, never-failing spring one and a half miles from this town. After calculations he proposed to bring an eight inch stream to town and give us a good system of waterworks for ten thousand deliars. Today our enterprising, public-spirited citizens invited the waterworks man to come over and go to work at once.

The Hamburg Cocking Main.

The Hamburg Cocking Main.

Augusta, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—the main between the North and South Carotina game cocks begun today in Hamburg. Only eleven out of twenty-one birds entered were marched. Three of the main fights were fought today, and eight will be fought tomorrow. Three hack fights were fought today, and probably a large number will be fought tomorrow. The South Carolina birds are entered by R. S. Anderson, of Edgefield, and the North Carolina by Sidney Holt, of Graham, North Carolina went two out of three. The stakes are $250 a side on the main and $25 on each fight. In the hack fight South Carolina won two out of three, stakes $50 each. A number of sporting men are in attendance, and the main is an interesting one.

Sustaining a Policeman.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—Mayor Schwarz this morning fined M. J. Knox five dollars for interferring with Policeman Neid-linger while in the discharge of his duty. Knox is superintendent of Harmon's livery stables. One of his employes had stopped a negro boy for cursing him. The boy called the policeman to arrest the stableman who was in the stables. Knox refused to let the police ga in without a warrant. Notidinger has been in without a warrant. Neidlinger parged with refusing to arrest the boy when COLUMBUS, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—The directors of the Columbus Southern railroad held a meeting here this evening. It is now said that tracklaying will begin at both ends of the road, in a few weeks, and that it will be open for business by the 15th of November.

GEORGIA NEWS BRIEFED.

Mr. J. W. Maloy, of Marietta, has been granted patents on trucks for ratiway cars and a lubricating device for ratiway cars. The Baptist Sunday-schools of Vienna and vicinity will form a large excursion to Beech Haven, on the Georgia Southern, Friday.

Robert Holman, of Albany, had his hand badly cut by the bursting of a soda bottle at Hill-man, & Agar's bottling works. The early "closing movement has commenced in Albany, and continues until August. Nearly allthe stores closed at six o'clock. A Texan pony caused much excitement in Albany by running away, overturning the sulky and dragging it over the negro driver, who was not greatly hort.

The case of the state vs. John Bowdoin, colored, charged with being accessory to the killing of Jason Gressonam, in Spaiding superior court, was postponed until next Monday morning. Near Mt. Zion church was the scene of another murder in Montgomery county. Joe Lowery went to the woods where Mr. — Rabun was cutting logs and shot him with a double-barrelled gun, the whole load taking effect and producing instant death. The difficulty arose about an account Lowery owed Rabun and about which they had an altercation on Saturday, in which Lowery come out second best and to get revenge he murdered Mr. Rabun as above stated. Lowery fil-d and it is not known whether any efforts are being made to apprehend him.

One of the most disastrous fires that has ever visited Montgomery county took place Saturday, one and a half miles from Lothair. Mrs. Cal. Miller, the owner of a large plantation near there, went to attend a meeting of the alliance, and on her return she was dismayed to find all she possessed in ashes. Her dwelling house and kitchen, together with a large cattle shelter, was utterly destroyed. The fire is supposed to have been caused by some boys who were smoking cigars carelessly dropping sparks on the plazza. Mrs. Miller is a widow with a large family devendent on her farm, and ber loss is scrious. A collection was taken up at Mount Zion church for the relief of the family. The loss is estimated at $3,000, with no insurance.

Atlanta Real Estate Exchange, No. 5 South Pryor St., Kimball House, J. Bippus, Manager.

THE RECENT SALES OF REAL ESTATE THE RECENT SALES OF REAL ESTATE provey our assertion that buyers would; make a mistake in delay. Atlanta property of every description is in demand. Years of experience and observation convinced us that Atlanta was about entering upon a period of advancement such as Minneapolis, Hanass City and Omaia have had and are now having. The growth of Atlanta will be as substantial as either of the above cities, for we possess greater manufacturing advantages and as large a scope of country to supply, and have in addition the healthlest location and the best climate under the sun.

dition the healthlest location and the best climate under the sun.
Purchasers are led to believe from the advertisements of the numerous real estate agents that there is an abundance of property of all kinds on the market, but two months hard driving over the city and suburbs convinces us that there is but a limited amount of good property for sale.

We have improved property on the following streets, some of which is very desirable, prices ranging from $12,000 down to $600:
Peachtree, West Peachtree, Ivy, West Baker, Pine, Capitol avenue, Crew, Chamberlin, Rawson, Forest ranging from $12,000 down to soon.

THE HISTORIC CANNON

Which Lie Buried at the Bottom of Brier Creek.

Sylvania, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—The Watchman says a movement is being organized to hunt the revolutionary cannon. It will be remembered that these guns were thrown into Brier creek, near its confluence with the Savannah river, by the surprised and fugitive Americans in 1779. The British had come upon them very suddenly and it is thought that they drumped the cannon into a lake by the they drumped the cannon into a lake by the side of the bridge before they ran. However this may be, it is certain that these ancient relies of freedom were left there in the swamp, and the tradition of the revolutionary cannon in Brier creek has been handed down from sire to son through all the succeeding years, and now occupies a prominent place in the unto son through all the succeeding years, and now occupies a prominent place in the unwritten archives of our country. The exact stot where they have been sleeping beneath the silent waters so long has been discovered and the clang of their old iron barrels can be heard distinctly when struck with the metal prongs of a gig. Captain Potter has given this interesting subject much thought and has this interesting subject much thought and has spent a good deal of time in both historical and cal research, endeavoring to fix the exact spot where they lie.

Cordelle, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—Mr. Sidney llunn, of Ipswick, England, has arrived here and will soon begin the manufacture of furniture and coffins. The trip from Liverpool to Cordele was made in seven days. Mr. Bunn says he heard of Cordele, and, after investigating, decided that, with wood so accessible, there could be no better place for his business. He is pleased.

Stock in the ice factory to be situated here is being taken rapidly by our business men. The enterprise will pay handsomely, and there will be little trouble in raising the capital. The stock is already subscribed for Cordele Wood and Land company to saw and ship wood. Mr. C. C. Winter, real estate agent here, will probably manage the business.

The Railreads Giving Reduced Terms for the Occasion.

Columbus, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—Arrangements for the grand firemen's tournament, which is to take place in this city on the 28th instant, are being rapidly completed. There is every prospect that the occasion will be a magnificent success, and Chief Burrus and his men are putting in their spare moments upon the arrangement of its details. The Troy, Griffin, Eufaula and Americus companies are practicing and will send full squads to the tournament. The Georgia Midland railroad will run a special excursion train, and an immense crowd will come down with the Griffin boys. The Central railroad will give, on its branches south of Childersburg, a rate of 2 cents per mile for the round trip.

THE JURY STILL OUT, AND ARRINGTON IS STILL IN SUS-PENSE.

The Judge Announces That He Will De-tain the Jury Until the Adjournment of Court.

QUITMAN, Ga., May 15 .- [Special.] - There were men in this town last night to whom slumber did not come. They were waiting the finding of the jury in the Arrington case. They are looking for it yet. Thirty-four hours have crept by at a snail's pace, and instead of the coming of a verdict from that room, there floats out upon the midnight air the mellow cadences of a song. 'Tis the "Good Old Ship of Zion, Halleniah." There are, of course, a few rumors as to how the jury stands. Whence they came, no one knows, and yet they may have in them a degree of significance. The latest is ten to cance. The latest is ten to two for acquittal. Some of the jury are known to be men of REMARKABLE STAYINS QUALITIES, and several of them sent word to their fami-lies this afternoon that they would get home about Saturday morning. The bailiff himself that has them in charge, sent a similar message to his friends. Juror Herring is quite sick and two or three others are unwell enough to have had medical attention. At abo three o'clock this afternoon Sheriff C. D McRae, in behalf of the jury, waited upon the presiding judge and asked if he would give his consent to their making a mistrial. He re-

Business Lots Rapidly Rising in Price—A Thriving Town.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—
The assured extension of the Atlanta and Florida railroad to deep water has stiffened business here in every line, especially real estate. Valuable manufacturing lots have advanced wonderfully in the past twenty-four hours, but residence lots are amounced and offered at the same price, but these lots are expected to advance accordingly in the next forty-eight hours. Lucky will be the man who gets in on the bettom floor. We are sure and certain now and have a live, progressing town, which will prove a large feeder to Atlanta's wholesale trade. All our town wants to get on a big boom is a little assistance from Atlanta, and that great organ, The Constitution. Our people invite capitalists, farmers, mechanics, horticulturists and laborers here to investigate; the advantages of our beautiful and fertile while lands which are so well adapted to all with its surroundings of beautiful and fertile table lands, which are so well adapted to all kinds of agriculture and horticulture. We are certainly on the verge of a big boom.

A Jury Must Decide the Price of the Central Land.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—[Special.]—The Macon Construction company desires to run the Georgia Southern road through certain property of the Central railroad on Fifth street. Last year the construction company offered the Central road $7,000 for the property in question, and $5,000 for two lots adjoining, which price the Central agreed to take, so it is alleged, but when the time came to give the deed the Central declined to do so. The Central new demands twenty thousand deliars for the property and this sum the construction company is unwilling to give and a jury has been enpaneled to condemn the land and assess a value. The case will be heard next Saturday. The construction company is confronted by three hijunctions, about similar, which will be heard on Jane first by Judge Richard Clark. In the mean time the track of the Georgia Southern cannot be laid through the city along Fifth street.

WAYCROSS BUILDING UP. THE COMING WIREGRASS METROP-

The Blocks of New Buildings-Public Institutions and Manufactories-The Prospects Ahead.

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 15 .- [Special.]-About fifteen years ago Dr. Daniel Lott, with his keen vision into the future, con-ceived the idea of a great city in wiregrass Georgia. Riding through his lands one day, he crossed the Atlantic and Gulf railroad where the junction is formed with the Bruns-wick and Western railroad. As he looked about him a vision of a great city passed be fore him, and in that instant his brain gave birth to Wayeross. Acting open his impres-sions, he planted the first seed in that soi whereon Waycross stands today. Nestling in the wiregrass of south Georgia, lulled to slee at evening by the quaint melody of the south wind as it comes up with fresh kisses from the waves of the gulf of Mexico and sings itself to sleep in the needles of the "long leaf" pine and so we find her today a living and progressive city, spreading out her arms one mile and a half in each direction from the central point, the courthouse. From every section of the country she has given citizenship and home to strangers, and eved from "across the water" have they come to breathe ber life. water" have they come to breathe her life, test her hespitality, and now, from a circumscribed area whereon four stores and a dozen homes were found, she has

Five years ago this ground was covered with woods and the wire grass waved its spiral fingers in undisputed sway. Today there is a handsome depot and restaurant all nicely equipped and conveniently arranged. Across the street from the depot a large brick hotel rears itself three stories high. "The Grand Central." Adjoining this hotel, is a row of brick stores, two stories, occupied above as offices, and a suite of rooms elegantly fitted up for the Y. M. C. A., with parlor and game and reading room and bath. Just in sight is the Waycross academy, erected three years ago on a lot donated by Mr. H. B. Plant. This institution, under the management of Professor J. D. Groff and a corps of excellent teachers, has two hundred students from all sections of wiregrass Georgia. In a stone's throw of the academy the Catholics have built a nice and tasty church building, which was dedicated on the 12th instant. Midway between old and new town is a brick structure, two stories high, in process of construction to be used by H. W. Scores of Buildings Have gone up in the last twelve months, some of which would do credit to Atlanta, and still the building boom is on in every direction. "The song of the hammer" is heard. Just opposite the passenger depot is a large triangular plat of ground enclosed by a wire fence. This it is understood is to be the site of a grand hotel to be erected at no late day. Just one block away from this site is a large reservation of ground under wire fence; this is to be leased out as a park. The location is a beautiful one, roomy and delightful even now in its unimproved state and it is an established fact that some day in the future the gushing of fountains and the aroma of flowers and the rustling sweetness of the magnolia will adorn and sweeten this spot, freshening the lives and gladdening the hearts of Waycrossians. THIS IS ENOUGH,

And the Controversy Might Just as Well Stop Here.

Fairburn, Ga., May 14, 1889.—Editors Constitution: In reference to the card of Mayor Latham, published in Monday's Constitution, in reply to my communication of the 2d inst., I have simply to say that he fails to show any misrepresentation on the part of your correspondent, and does not deny having used the language attributed to him. Here is the special which stands for itself: Fairburn, Ga., May 2.—[Special.]—Diek Morris, who created such a sonsation here yesterday, was teday tried before the mayor on four sejarate charges, and fined $55. He was then turned over to the sheriff, but was subsequently released on a $1.000 bond for carrying concealed weapons and for assault with intent to murder.

This is the third case this week of drunk and disorderly conduct, and the fines have amounted to $125. The mayor stated in the trial of one of these cases that it was impossible to stop the sale of whisky, and that in his opinion there was more whisky drinking and drunkenness than ever before in the history of the town. It is very plain that the prohibition law is unpopular here. It, is practically a dead letter in Campbell county, and ought at once to be repealed.

Mayor Latham says that his attention had been called to the above, and in reply seeks to modify his statements by omiting the charge that, "It was impossible to stop the sale of whishy," and limiting the "whisky drinking and drunkenness to a few days." The truth is, this special met the gaze of Mayor Latham on the morning of its publication, but as it contained nothing untrue or exagenated, he did not deem it sees any to attempt a refutation until urged to do so by one of his prohibition friends. He tries to hold the writer responsible for the head lines, with which, as a matter of course, we had nothing to do. They simply indicate the logical conclusion of the editor, and were very appropriate. As to the popularity of prohibition friends. L. J. Day, of Day's cross roads, was in the city yesterday and told us that he had bought and sold within the last three months seven hundred and sixty-five dozen eggs. Just think of it, 9,180 eggs. At ten cents per dozen they brought $76.50. If these eggs had been of Colonel F. E. Grist's Champion games they would, at his regular price, have brought into Clay county $2,255. As he is unable to supply the rapidly increasing demand for eggs from his game fowls, we think it would be a good kiea for our people to kill out and eat their common chickens and try Grist's champions.

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 16 1889. A Lesson for Business Men.

What class of Atlanta people have made the most money?

Her manufacturers. There is no disputing this. There have been some manufacturers who have failed, and some who have barely struggled along, but taken as a class, including everything from a little shop to a great factory, the manufacturers of Atlanta have made more money in the past twenty-five years than any class of our people.

The air is full of examples. You can count as rapidly as you can run your fingers, men who have made fortunes in manufacturing in Atlanta,

Now what does this mean? It means that the average of industrial enterprises in Atlanta represents high success. It means that our advantages are such that a hundred men who have put their money in shops or factories, have made more money than any hundred men who have put their money in any other class of enterprises. Now for the moral.

The Chamber of Commerce Investment company proposes to invest its money in from ten to twenty-five new manufacturing enterprises. These will represent all kinds of manufacturing and all sorts of management. They will therefore represent the average manufacturing enterprises in Atlanta.

But experience shows that the average manufacturers in Atlanta have made more money than the average merchant, the average professional man, or the average of any other business. Therefore it is safe to assume that the average of the Chamber of Commerce Investment company's enterprises will show better profit than could be had with the money in any other class of Even better than this. While the average of Atlanta manufacturing shows a profit, the average of the chamber of commerce enterprises would show a better profit because every enterprise would be scrutinized and investigated, and only those that promised the best results would be undertaken.

As an investment you cannot do better than to put your money in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce Investment company, but besides making a good investment it will do more to build up Atlanta than anything you can possibly do. Now send in your name and subscribe to the stock.

The Next Census.

As a general thing the papers which did most to bring about the defeat of the democratic party by forcing on it the adoption of an ill-advised and untimely policy just on the eve of the election, are now complaining most about the probability of an incorrect census. They are loud in the condemnation of the appointment of Mr. Porter to the superintendency of the census, charging that it means the subordination of that great work to the use of the republican party. The New York Evening Post calls upon the senate to reject the nomination "even at the risk of delaying the work of prepara-

Readers of THE CONSTITUTION will recall the earnestness with which we admonished democratic party long before the last election that the taking of the next census was the most important thing with which the party had to deal. This was given no consideration, and now that we are confronted with the possibility of the realization of the very evils against which THE CON-STITUTION advised, the democratic press is beginning to appreciate the fact that the taking of the next census is a matter of very grave import to the party. The republicans have the president and both branches of congress, and if the charge is true that that party intends to prostitute the census for partisan purposes, the democratic states have much to fear. The New York Post, which belongs to that class of papers to which we have referred, says:

What will the eyes of the census enm the south bring themselves to see under the inspira-tion of those republican leaders who propose to put the next congressional and presidential election under the control of the federal executive? A re-duction of the commeration of the people of the south, especially of the colored ele-ment, to an extent of ten or fifteen per cent, thereby reducing congressional representation from that portion of the country and helping to perpetuate the political supremacy of the republican party, would not be a very difficult thing to do, but an exceedingly difficult thing to remedy.

The Post has been very vehement in its attacks on Mr. Porter and, as appears, looks with very suspicious eyes on the work of those under him in the south. We do not share the apprehension of the Post and others of our contemporaries whose caustic criticisms of Mr. Porter, as well as their prejudice, will not allow them to do that gentleman justice. We do not believe that a better man could have been selected from the republican party, but at the same time we are of . the opinion that the democratic party will be made to suffer in the taking of the census. The same thing would have been true had any other republican been appointed, no matter how honest or how determined he might have been to have taken | British crown. It is really surprising that the census without respect to partisan bias. It is not Mr. Porter, but the republican party, in charge of this important work, and the party in power will see to it this time, as it has done in the past, that if there is any advantage to be gained it shall fall in the right direction. With the victory of the republican party faded the hope of the south having the wrongs of past censuses righted in the taking of the next. Mr. Porter is sincere, no doubt, in his frequent and emphatic assertions that the census shall be absolutely free from any influence which would discredit its accuracy or dishonor those in charge of it; but Mr. Porter cannot speak for the republican administration nor the tens of ousands of republican underlings who are to do the actual work in the preparation of this great book of the nation's statistics. terest on such a struggle, and under certain They will be controlled by party policy.

We do not believe that the south will be hand. It looks very much as if Canada

The New Improvement Company.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: The new "Im-provement company" is a move in the right direc-ion, and is started none too soon. Atlanta is, by ame, the best known city in the south, yet con ratively few people in the north really know addition to this, the vigilance of these men who are the guardians of person and propthe south. I have come recently from New Eng and, and know how wide-spread the interest is only a few months ago a company composed of New England's leading capitalists was formed to develop Fort Paine, Ala. In less than one hour during the month of April, 1889. The after the stock books were opened one million dolars and over was subscribed. The place was adentire force, from Chief Connolly down to vertised, and inducements were held out to home and investment seekers, and Fort Paine is rapidly becoming a thrity city. Still more recently, a party of New England gentlemen have gone to the last supernumerary, seems infused with party of New England gentiemen have gone to Denison, Texas, formed a company, invested largely, and propose to develop that part of the country. On their way home they stopped in Fort Paine, and in one afternoon invested over one hundred thousand dollars. The railroads offer low rates to these places and they are rapidly be-coming prosperous. New cotton mills are being erected by northern capital in Virginia, and one of the larger mills in Massachusetts is to be removed. soming prosperous. New cotton ministre being eracted by northern capital in Virginia, and one of the larger mills in Massachusetts is to be removed to Carolina. These are only a few instances of the placing of capital in the south. All such enterprises need encouragement, and it is only by combined action that the best results can be obtained, and in just the way the people of Atlanta now propose to give help to new industries. Atlanta has more natural advantages than any other point in the south and in the great struggle for supremacy it should keep itself constantly in notice. Now is the time for action; in the success of this movement depends to a great degree the future growth and prosperity of Atlanta. The citizens of Atlanta cannot afford to allow all this capital and these homeseckers to go elsewhere when by effort and help they can be secured to Atlanta. The money expended to help build up the place will pay a magnificent interest in the increased values of property, if in no other way.

om the Calhoun, Ga., Times. Any one reading or having read that ever popular book, "St. Elmo," written by that gifted authoress, Mrs. Augusta Evans, has a irning desire to visit the spot where her thoughts were collected and ideas advanced that compose the pages of this favorite work. Leaving the little town of Calhoun under the lue canopy spread overhead and the glorious morning rays shining forth, giving life and joy morning rays sining forth, giving the and joy to all things, a select party composed of Mrs. Minnie Smith, Misses May, Laura and Mattie Haynes, Mr. Frank Wyatt and little daughter Mamie, Mr. Tom Whitfield and Mr. Henry Roff, were en route to the spot we were all anxiously longing to behold, and after Last Tuesday she had no money left to pay the account due, and was told that she would have to leave. In dire distress she went to the American legation and told the charge d'affaires, Mr. Henry White, practically the same story as she told the World correspondent, except that she mentioned the name of one of her cousins, who is the wife of Mr. John Kinnard, of 420 North Fourth street, St. Louis, and that she mentioned as friends several people in Baltimore and Washington whom Mr. White knew. She said that she knew Lawyer Hornblower, of New York, and declared that she would put the case in his hands when she got an exceedingly pleasant drive of four hours we hove in sight of the famous place, "Barnesleys Garden." Oh, what joy! what pleasure awaited us, can only be imagined by those who have taken a similar trip. The gardens lie southwest of Calhoun, seven les. Situated upon the very uttermost teen miles. Situated upon the very atternost point of the mountain rears the grand old Gothic structure commenced in 1861 by Dr. Barnesley and after expending $16,000 the war coming upon him breaking him up. has never been completed, but stands today as a onument to a man whose energies and tastes will never be forgotten as long as life lasts. This section of Bartow county is unsurpassed in the salubrity of its climate, the fertility of ts soil, and the extent, variety and value of its minerals. As to the healthfulness, the mild climate, the perfect drainage, the absence of swamps and marshes, the free-lorg of the soil from stagnant waters and markers and markers. om of the soil from stagnant waters and madom of the seal from stagnant waters and ma-larial influences, the pure, bracing atmosphere —all combine to make it a health resort sur-passed by no spot on the globe. On entering the grounds the view which meets one's eye is simply enchanting. There upon the mountain peak stands the old Gothic three story brick baron claimed as his intimate friends have de-clared that they never knew him.

At the Langham hotel the World corres-pondent was told that a man giving that name used to call there for letters, but never stopped there. Finally the woman became convinced that she had been duped by a fortune hunter and then deserted. Mr. White exerted him-self among a few friends and raised money enough to pay hotel bills, to get the wedding ring out of pawn and to buy a ticket back to America. peak stands the old trothic three story brick building surmounted by a tower which over-looks the beautiful gardens below, and the broad acreage of fields under fine cultivation. Upon arriving on the grounds we were met at the gate by a very polite and accommodating specimen of the ebony hue, who took charge of our horses, relieving us from any further trouble in that respect. Upon casting our eyes about, we beheld a arreyes about, we beheld a countries by the mountain side. The collection refreshed, we proceeded on our tour of inspection, climbing three flights of stairs up the mountain side, we reached the door of a very collection. pretty little cottage and your humble servant, as spokesman, tripped lightly to the front door, tapped upon it softly, and in a few minutes the door flew open and out peeped a beautiful brunette face mounted upon a lovely figure. I with all due respect and politeness tipped my hat as well as I could under the enchantment of the mount introduced myself saking of of the moment, introduced myself, asking of the fair damsel the privilege of obtaining in-formation and inspecting the grounds and house, when in a musical voice came the anhouse, when in a musical voice came the answer, "with pleasure, any assistance I may be able to render you will be cheerfully given, but," she remarked, "be very careful; the house has never been completed, the floors are not very safe in some places." Thanking her in a very modest way for her kindness and promising to be very careful, we proceeded on our journey. On entering the great iron door on the first floor, one beholds the unique structure of the grand edifice. Upon venturing a little further you find the family wault immense in size. With reluctance we leave the linside a mystery, never having been unlocked since the death of Dr.

saving been unlocked since the death of Barnesley. Passing on we come to the l Barnesley. Passing on we come to the library which, though not complete is a beauty of itself. To the right of the fire place stands a bookcase the shelves of which are well filled with choice and interesting books of ante bellum days. Upon the mantle of fine white marble stands the old family clock "which has stopped short never to run again, since Dr. Barnesley died." This clock is of immense size, being full four feet high, and two feet wide, lined with gold and bearing date 1813, which makes it seventy-six years old, the works in perfect order, but cars old, the works in perfect order, but wing to a custom of the family has not been pened in a number of years. The next thing of note is an old double barrel shotgun, the property of Colonel R. G. Earle, of whom we will speak later. In a closet to the left of the door may be found hides, horns and bones of different wild animals killed long before the war. Pistols, bowie knives, toma-hawks, spears, Indian arrows, etc., may also be found in this collecmay also be found in this collec-tion. Passing on we ascend to the second floor; here we found nothing of note except an old time piano of odd shape, the key boards of which are yellow with age, the tone of which still enchants the soul of the weary pilgrim as he circles in and out among the walls of that enchants the soul of the weary pilgrim as he circles in and out among the walls of that grand old Gothic structure, Nothing more of note to be seen here, we descended to the garden to see nature's work, assisted by energy and skill. The grounds are terraced, circling around the house. On the first terrace may be found spruce pines, arborvitas, banana shrubs, South Carolina pines and many other species. On the second terand many other species. On the second terrace are the smaller shrubbery. On the third and last terrace the eye rests upon beds of diamond, herse shoe and heart shaped, filled with the more delicate flowers, and directly in front of the house on this terrace stands a marble fountain of immense size and capacity. Here also is to be found a hotbed beaten by storms of many seasons, but still containing storms or many seasons, but still containing many choice plants, among which I desire specially to mention a very large, remarkably healthy rosebush, which was planted by the hands of Mrs. Barnesley, tenderly nursed during her lifetime, and more tenderly nursed since her death than any other plant on the place. Here, also, may be seen a very artiscally arranged fishpond, in the waters of which are to be seen a very deliwhich are to be seen a very deli-cately tinted pink fish playing among the ripples of its waters; here also stands a gi-gantic weeping willow, nine feet in circum-ference. Decending to the broad carriage drive ference. Decending to the broad carriage drive which surrounds the garden and house, casting your eyes up you behold a sight almost beyond nature's own. In the rear of the mansion stands a beautiful cottage occupied by the surviving son of Dr. Barnesley, his sister and her daughter, a most genial and pleasant gentleman, whose silver locks bespeak for him many years of past toil and labor. Directly in front of this cottage is the grave of Colonel R. G. Earle, a devoted nephew of the family who died in the cause of his ceuntry. Upon the tombstone may be seen this inscription:

WEDDED TO A BOGUS BARON. The Bitter Experience of Miss Constable, of Baltimore. From the New York World,

From the New York World,

LONDON, May 11.—On one of the homeward bound ships which left Liverpool this week is an American girl who married a man for his title and who came abroad to learn the usual bitter lesson. Her story, as she told it to the Word correspondent, within an hour of her departure for New York is substantially as follows:

Two years ago she was known as Miss Con-Two years ago she was known as Miss Constable, living at Baltimore, well connected and with enough money to enable her to go to New York to study music. She went to a boarding house on East Seventeenth street, near the American School of Opera, and there met Baron F. E. Von Sucrow, who was introduced to her by an Englishman, a fellowarder. M. Von Sucrow was a good looking, plausible talker and claimed to be an officer in the German army with an estate and a high income man army with an estate and a big income.

At the boarding house in question Miss Constable was believed to have a fortune of her own. The baron made love proposed, was accepted and was married with very little inquiry on Miss Constable's part as to the truth about his alleged connections abroad. The wedding took place, so Mrs. Von Sucrow says, on September 18 last, at St. Paul's church, Baltimore, and was performed by the Rev. Dr. Hedges. There was also a civil ceremony at the city hall, Philadelphia, performed by Mayor Fitler. After a brief tour M. de Sucrow and his wife went back to the Seventeenth street boarding house. The baron soon discovered that he had married a poor girl, and she, on her side, was brought to realize that if he had a large fortune in Germany, he had at any rate very little ready money with him. He told her a long yarn about the auger of his parents at his marriage, in consequence of which he declared his remittances had not come to hand. His wife believed him. He made her borrow enough from her friends to get along with. Finally he started for Europe a few weeks ago ostensibly to look after his fortune and estate. In a very short time his wife became convinced that he did not mean to come back. She therefore started after him, and on her arrival here put up at the Langham hotel. She had to pawn her wedding ring and other jewelry to pay her bill during the first weeks. Last Tuesday she had no money left to pay the account due, and was told that she would have to leave. In dire distress she went FIVE CONVICTS RUN OFF FROM THE

The Guards Give Hot Chase, Shooting One Down, Capturing Three, and Were Pursuing the Other Man With Bloodhounds When Last Heard From-A Plot to Steal a Dummy Engine

There was a lively time out at the Chattaochee brick yards early yesterday morning, Five convicts tried to escape.

About 6 o'clock Superintendent H. P. Woods rushed by him in the direction of the woods, pursued by Mr. A. J. Abell, the guard, who yelled at them to halt. They ran on and when the quintette were about twenty when the quintette were about twenty yards beyond the guard line, he fired upon them three times in rapid succession. Henry Corder, a white man, fell wounded in the right leg. The guards pursued the others, capturing three while the fourth got away. Those who attempted to escape were Elias Milner, white, in for life from Calhoun county for murder; Henry Corder, white, sent up from Cherokee county, the years for horse. for murder; Henry Corder, white, sent up from Cherokee county, five years, for horse stealing; William Tiller, colored, in from Fulton county for ten years, assault with intent to murder; Harry Merrill, colored, from Clayton county sentenced to four years for burglary. Ed Thomas, unlatte, from Fulton, five years for burglary. Thomas escaped and its being hunted with bloodhounds.

Henry Corder's right thigh was broken. The wound is serious, but he will probably recover.

After the trouble Superintendent Woodroff as told that about twenty of the most desperate prisoners had planned to seize the dummy engine and run to the end of the line, but the idea was given over because no one could operate the engine.

Above this there are gorges and rapids which the foreigners now think can be passed, and there will then be an opening into the interior of China by this means for more than 2,000 miles. The Yangtse-Kiang is so long that it would reach from San Francisco to New York and push its way out into the Atlantic if it could be stretched out upon a plane of the face of the United States. It is longer than the distance from New York to Liverpool, and it is said to be the best stream in the world as to the arrangement of its branches. Its boat population is numbered by hundreds of thousands, and it is a city of hundreds of miles in length, made up numbered by hundreds of thousands, and it is a city of hundreds of miles in length, made up of junks, ships and barges. CELESTIAL SUPERSTITIONS.

The Chinese are fail of superstitions, and many of them firmly believe that the foreigners make medicines out of human beings. The ers make medicines out of human beings. The massacre at Tien-Tsin in 1870, in which twenty foreigners were killed, and among them a number of French nuns, was caused by the report that the sisters were killing children to get their hearts and eyes for medical purposes, and the trouble in Corea last spring was caused by the circulation of the stories that the missionaries were grinding up children's bones to make medicine. This report was started by the Chinese, and the latest attempt of the kind I find today here at Shanghai. It appears in a tri-monthly illustrated magazine which the Chinese publish and which sells for five cents a copy. This contains a full description of how the foreigners make their medicine, with ghastly contains a full description of how foreigners make their medicine, with ghat contains a full description of how the foreigners make their medicine, with ghastly illustrations of the severed trunks and the cut up limbs of human beings. In one cut men in American clothes are bending over great furnaces in which the heads and legs of men are boiling, and beside which great baskets and tubs of cut up humans lie. The men also stire ring the steaming mass, and the picture makes. ring the steaming mass, and the picture make one think of the witches' caldron in "Mac beth."

The Chinese themselves do not believe in dissection and there is no body snatching here. They believe that the heart is the seat of thought, that the soul exists in the liver and that the gall bladder is the seat of courage. For this reason the gall bladders of tigers are eaten by soldiers to inspire them with courage. The Chinese doctor ranks no higher than the ordinary skilled workman. He gets from fifteen to twenty cents a visit and he often takes patients on condition that he will cure them within a certain time or no pay. He never sees his female patients except behind a screen, and he does not pay a second visit unless he is invited. His pay is called "golden thanks," and the orthodox way of sending it to him is wrapped in red paper. The dentists look upon pulled teeth as trophies, and they go about with necklaces of decayed teeth about their necks, or with them strung upon strings and teed to sticks. Toothache is supposed to come from a worm in the teath. The Chinese themselves do not believe in strung upon strings and tied to sticks. Toothache is supposed to come from a worm in the tooth, and there are a set of female doctors who make a business of extracting these worms. When the nerve is exposed they take this out and call it the worm, and when not they use a sleight-of-hand by which they make their patients believe certain worms, which they show them, come from their teeth. I have heard persons tell of Chinamen who claim to have had ten worms taken from their mouths in a single day, and I saw a woman actually at work upone patient in the street here. China is as full of superstition as the West India islands, and the people like to be humbugged here quite as well as we like to be humbugged here quite as well as do in America.

The enthusiasm over the result of the floral carnival is unabated. People can talk of nothing class. Before it occurred there were many skeptics who decried the scheme, thought it all nonsense; and didn't see why people wanted to make a parade of themselves; but after seeing the beautiful sight their views entirely changed.

Mrs. Taylor made an enchanting, never-to-be-forgotten picture in her daisy gown and cart.

Mrs. High's carriage has received its full share of admiration, and many consider it the prettiest of all.

"Why, the very sight of it," said a hard working business man, "made a fellow feel cool and peaceful. The ferns and white flowers

And it all will long be remembered.

One of the most beautiful afternoon receptions ever seen in Atlanta was given yesterday from 4 o'clock until 7 by Mrs. Judge C. H. Strong and Mrs. John Marion Graham. Mrs. Strong's lovely home in Baltimore terrace was most artistically decorated, the rooms being darkened and illuminated brilliantly with gas jets and wax candles. The hallway was lit with swinging lamps with red gauze globes, and the stairway was decorated with sheaves of wheat and marigoids. The long drawing room in which the ladies received their guests was decorated ensured in rose color. The centre chandelier had its crystal globes covered with exquisite rose-colored fluted shades. Who Will Buy It?

The Age Herald says:

A prominent railroad official was asked yesterday what the report that the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham was going to purchase the Cincinnati, Selma and Mooile railway meant. He said object the kanass City, shellphis and Birmingham could have in buying the little road would be to extend it to its present line on the north and some seaport on the south, and that was altogether improbable, as the sea could be reached much easier on the east, and afforded more numerous opportus nitles for business. The Queen and Crescent and the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, said he, are the only roads nesotiating for the Cincinnati, Selma and Mobile, with the possible exception of the Central railroad and banking company. He thought the road would be disposed of in a short while.

A Bridegroom's Predicament.

From the Utica Herald,

A dapper young gentleman in a skull cap A dapper young genterman in a sain cap jumped off a drawing-room ear on the 4:38 p. m train east on the Central yesterday, and went to the candy store in the waiting room, and asked for two boxes of caramels. While they were being made ready he noticed the new toy, "Rats in the made ready he holded the lew by, had in the Meal," and picked one up. The toy is exactly like "Pigs in Clover," except that it is about the size of a watch and the "rats" are five shot. He became a watch and the "rats" are five shot. He became very much incrested in the game, and chased the "rats" around and around for nearly, ten minutes, "There, I've got it," he exclatined, but while he-had been absorbed the train had moved off. He was in utter consternation. It transpired that he was recently married and was on his bridal trip. The goodn was horified to find that his bride was on her way to Albany with his hat, overcost and belongings. He was at a loss what to do, but finally arranged matters by telegraph with Albany.

An astronomer from Harvard observatory some time ago propounded this problem to a numper of fellow-savants: Suppose that three snakes, each two feet in length, should catch each other by each two feet in leagth, should catch each other by the tip of the tail, thus making a circle six feet in circumference. Suppose that each snake should begin to swallow the one in front of him. In what way would the resultant figure, after each snake had swallowed the one in front of him, differ from the original circle? There were many diverse only. the original circle? There were many diverse opinions upon the subject, some of them entering the ensideration of the fourth dimension of space, be cause any one of the snakes would have swallowed the two in front of him. and yet have been swal-towed by the two in back of him. and, therefore, would be both inside and outside of his two fellows.

ATLANTA DEFEATED IN A CLOSELY

The Atlanta Boys Put Up a Good Game, But Do Not Win-Other Victories-The Games in Outside Leagues.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 15 .- [Special.]-New Orleans won, but it was after a desperate struggle. Errors by Polhemus, Ward and Holland and a wild pitch gave Atlanta a run in the first; Martz scored in the second on his two bagger Hol-land muffed, and Howe's single to right. New Orleans scored its first run in the fourth on Ward's single, Hoeneman's wild throw and Schacherus' single. Atlanta forged further shead in the fifth, Howe scoring on Holland's two errors and Kingsley's single fumbled by Fabian; but Atlanta stopped scoring then, while No. Orleans just commenced. Ward scored a run in the sixth on his hit and wild throws caused by his effort to steal second. In the seventh Holland's hard hit to Mortz and the the seventh Holland's hard hit to Mortz and the latter's fumble brought in two rons. New Orleans clinched the victory in the eaghth on Ward's single and fine base running, Fabian's base on balls, a passed ball, and Schacherus' timely hit. In the ninth Howe got to third on errors, with one man out. Kingsley drove a hot liner to second and Howe started home. Ward made a fiy catch of the liner and put the ball to third in time for a double play, scaling Atlanta's chances. The features of the day were the out-field work of Sterling. Henceman day were the out-field work of Sterling, . Hoeneman and Powell, and Ward and Schacherus' all around play. Atlanta did not have the crowd with it as on the day before, playing something like dirty ball. Holland's arm was bruised and McGurck

AT THE COURT HOUSE. A Number of Damage Suits Filed in the City Court Yesterday.

Suit was filed in the city court yesterday by Mrs. Emma L. Woodward, wife of Council-man Woodward, against J. M. High for $15,-000 damages. In her petition Mrs. Woodward alleges that on the 23d of October, 1888, while she was walking along Whitehall street, and while passing the store of J. M. High, she was struck by a falling dry goods box, belong-ing to the defendant, and that she sustained serious internal injuries thereby. Suit was also entered against J. M. High for $5,000 damages, by Mr. James G. Woodward, the damages, by Mr. James G. Woodward, the husband, based on the above grounds. W. L. Miller, through his attorney, sues the Western and Atlantic railroad company for $25,000 damages for injuries claimed to have been sustained while endeavoring to couple two cars in the union depot last February. In the superior court yesterday suit was brought against Sheriff Thomas by Elbert McCune and application for an injunction to pre-brought against Sheriff Thomas by Elbert McCune and application for an injunction to prevent the sheriff from ejecting McCune from certain lands. Judge Clark granted the injunction and set the case for hearing on Saturday, the 18th.

Suit was brought yesterday by Mr. M. P.
Harwell against Sharp Bros., druggists, for $2,500. Harwell is an employe of the Western and Atlantic railroad company and owed Sharp Bros. a bill for medicine. In his petition Harwell states that Sharp Bros, went to Chattanooga and had his wages garnisheed in that city because they would not do so under the laws of Georgia, and that as he was employed in Atlanta all the time, he claims that he was not amenable to the laws of Tennessee.

In the superior court yesterday, Judge Clarke was engaged in hearing evidence in the case of Perry M. DeLeon vs. Heller, Hurch & Co. This case has occupied the court since Monday morning, but it is expected that it will go to the jury sometime today. It is a suit for damages for alleged false imprisonment, growing out of an old debt of 1881.

Suit was entered against the city of Atlanta. prisonment, growing out of an old debt of 1881. Suit was entered against the city of Atlanta yesterday by Lucius C. Smith for $10,000 dannages. Smith was a nurseryman, and alleges in his petition that last November while on his way to work, early in the morning and while walking along the sidewalk on Jones street, between Kelley and Connally, he fell into the open mouth of a sewer, sustaining serious and permanent internal injuries thereby. He claims that the accident was due to the negligence of the city authorities in not covering the hole in said sewer or placing a light near it to warn pedestrians of the existence of the said hole.

UNLOADING THE SCENERY.

The Grounds Where the Ancient City of Pompeii is to be Built Visited by Crowds Yesterday.—People Coming from Every Direction to See the Great Spec-Four car loads of scenery for the Great Spectacle

Four car loads of scenery for the Great Spectacle were delivered yesterday at Peters' park, and attracted considerable attention. Quite a number visited the ground and watched the tremendous work that is going on. "What are they going to do with those fifty-foot timbers?" asked one of the more inquisitive boys. Receiving no answer the boy satisfied himself that he knew they were for the mountain. The work on the lake is progressing, and it will be ready for water by the middle of nextweek. The grand stand, the work shops and the dressing rooms, will be completed by that time, and the ancient city of Pompeli will be ready for destruction by the 28th instant.

Governor McDaniel said: I amjectainly coming to Atlanta to see Pompeii.

H. P. Moore, of the Madisonian, says Madison will send at least two hundred and fifty people to see the first production of Pompeil.

Captain Purcell, of the Georgia reilroad, remarked at the Kimball house last night: We will bring at least twenty-live hundred to three thousand people over our road. We are advertising it heavily, and there is a great deal of talk about it.

John J. King, a banker of Rome: A large crowd is coming from Rome to see Pompeii.

The production of "The Last Days of Pompeii" in Atlanta will draw great crowds to the city, and it is predicted that it will be such a grand success that every spring Mr. Pain will be induced to bring one of his great spectacular presentations to Atlanta. The price of admission, including seats, will be fifty cents and reserved seats twenty-five cents exerciclars, fifty cents. As only a limited number of these will be sold, it will be well to secure them in advance. Bear in mind that this is what never has been seen in the south before. It is a grand spectacular, with three hundred elegantity costumed performers, with three hundred elegantity costumed performers at the conclusion of e

Look out for the biggest fruit crop ever made in Georgia. "There is no danger of blight," said Judge

Henderson yesterday. "I consider a magnifi-cent fruit crop absolutely assured."
"All over the state?" "Yes, sir, all over the state. The most universally gratifying feature of the present season's conditions is the flattering rospect of the fruit crop."

"How about frost?" "It hasn't done much harm. The reports of injuries by frosts are few and far between. The orchards throughout the state are loaded with young fruit of every kind, and the vineyards give promise of their usual bounteou

"Which crops will be best?" "The peach crop, which is the most uncer-tain, regarding frost, and the grape crop, which is the most reliable under all conditions-are the most promising."

"What do you think?"
"I think this. The strong probability is that the largest fruit crop ever known in the history of the state will be harvested."

NEW ORLEANS, May 15-[Special.] -Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular today, say: This morning we opened here about 6 to 7 points higher than yesterday's closing and at the close lost two points of the advance. New York closed very steady 3 to 4 points higher, and Liverpool closed firm 3-64 higher than last night's prices. The weather is anxiously watched as rain is required in almost all rections. Fort receipts today show a loss of 2000, bales as compared with last year. Spotshere are firm

GLENNY & VIOLETT. NEW YORK, May 15 .- [Special.]-Hubbard, Price & Co., in their cotton circular, say: The trade demand appears to have again set in Liverpool and demand appears to have again set in Liverpool and purchases there today greatly exceed those at any time within the past ten days. As a result of this demand, the future market advanced three points and closed firm. New York, on a small business, advanced quickly eight points from yesterday's closing prices, but under realizing sales, lost a portion of the advance and closed but quietly steady. The volume of business has been disappointing, as he strong front shown by the foreign markets, or upled with inquiries for good grades for export, led operators to believe that a further advance. couled with inquiries for good grades for export, led operators to believe that a further advance would be sustained with ease. The crop advices do not improve and the more distant positions have shown a greater amount of strength than those of the old crop, Sould the present unfavorable weakbess continue, the chances are greatly in favor of a further advance in the new crop months, as they are relatively cheap as compared with the prices paid for spot cotton in New York and Liverpool. The market closes tame on the old crop and very firm on the new. Traders expect lower Liverpool quotations for the old erop the opening were executed, the market got in a rut and the subsequent extremely limited trade failed to extricate it. We dislike to imagine the present stagnation a precursor of a dull spell, but judging from the hesitancy exhibited by outsiders to trade and the general dearth of speculative business, w e are in for a siege of dullness. Corn has ruled firm all the morning, the strength coming Fined arm are the morning, the savengin coming from the large demand for cash stuff.

Provisors are weak, the result of a largely in-creased movement of hogs, which promises to con-tinue.

A BIG CASE OF INTEREST. CLARKE UNIVERSITY LIABLE FOR TAXES ON 450 ACRES.

mptroller General Wright Directs Tax Collector Stewart to Assess the Value of the Property for Each Year Since the University Bought It and to Collect Double Taxes Under the Law

The Clarke University owns 450 acres of nd lying in its immediate vicinity which has ever been returned for taxation. The comptroller-general decided yesterday that it is taxable property, and that the state and county taxes must be paid on it.

Mr. A. P. Stewart, the tax collector of Fulton county, addressed Comptroller General Wright a letter yesterday, in which he stated that this land has never been given in for taxation and asked for instructions in regard to it. It was also stated that the authorities of the university have declined to return the land or to pay taxes on it on the ground that Clarke university is a charitable nstitution, and by reason of that fact the 450 acres is not subject to taxation.

The comptroller-general replied to Mr. Stewart instructing him that the property in question, not being part or parcel of the grounds necessary to the carrying on of the institution, is subject to taxation. He instructed him further that the 450 acres, as under the law, the penalty for failure to return taxable property is a double tax for each year of failure to return, is therefore subject to double tax for every year since the purchase of

In view of the refusal of the university to pay the tax, the comptroller-general directed Mr. Stowart to assess the value of the property for each and every year since it came into the ownership of Clarke university, and to issue fi. fas. for the collection of the double taxes due the state from the year of purchase up to the present time.

VALUE OF THE LAND.

Colonel George W. Adair was asked about the value of the land yesterday, and said: "I know the property, and should say that, as it now stands, it is worth at least one hundred dollars an acre."

Another prominent gentleman, who deals in eal estate, remarked that if the four hundred and fifty acres should be cut up into lots and put upon the market it would sell at the rate of one thousand dollars an acre. He thought that, since its purchase by the university, it had never been the university, it had never worth less than fifty dollars an acre.

The property was purchased in 1876 and would, therefore, be liable for double taxes each year for about thirteen years. As the sum total due the state will depend upon the assessment of the valuation for each year by Tax Collector Stewart, the total cannot now It will foot up thousands of dollars.

If the authorities of Clarke university resist the collection of this tax, as they clearly intend to do, the issue joined will lead to one of the biggest legal battles ever waged in Geor-

ABOUT BEN ELZY. The Birmingham Convict is an Atlanta

Negro. Mr. Harvey Bedford has just returned from Birmingham, and he has located the murderer of Mrs. Hargrove. In December last Ben Elzy, who has jus onfessed to the killing of a man at Red countain, near Birmingham, Ala., came to Atlanta, and during his stay he forged an order from Mr. Wood, the nephew of Mrs. Hargrove, who was killed near Marietta on March 12, and got a suit of clothes from Billie Gilbert, in Marietta.

On March 11th he came down on a train on the Georgia Pacific, and said that he wanted to get off at Mableton.

wanted to get off at Mableton.
Captain Caulter, a conductor on the Georgia Pacine, recognized him, and let him off at Mableton, with the promise that he would take the returning train next day and go back to his home, in Birmingham.
Next day Mrs. Hargrove was murdered.
The coat and vest that he pulled off after the murder were the same that he purchased from Mr. Gilbert on the forged order.
He made a remark to Mr. Wood last spring that gave the story away.
He tried to hire to him by the year, and Mr. Wood said that he could not made a contract with Elzy except by the year, because he did not have the money to pay him cash did not have the money to pay him cash down.

Elzy asked why he did not get the money, and said that Mrs. Hargrove had plenty of money, and that she carried it under her clothing.

All these facts put together would convict Elzy of the murder, but as he has already confessed to two other capital crimes, he will not be brought back to Atlanta, unless there is sweether. is something to exonerate him in the other cases in Alabama.

Rev. Sam Small at Trinity.

A large crowd gathered at Trinity church last night to hear Rev. Sam Small. He preached from the text "can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots." He showed the danger of forming habits that were intuical to the health and morals of the individual that can task! were inimical to the health and morals of the individual, that eventually they took such hold upon the life, that to change them, was as impossible as for the leopard to change his spots. The sermon was strong, eloquent, pratical. It was intensely interesting from beginning to end. At the close of the service several went forward for prayer. He will preach tonight. The pastor of the church said last night, that the meeting would be held in the main anditorium to right. main auditorium tonight, thus every one car be accommodated who attends. An effor will be made to get Mr. Small to remain and conduct a series of meetings at Trinity.

"On my back!" is a common exclamation, and expresses a world of misery and suffering. It is singular this pain arises from such various causes. Kidney disease, liver complaint, wasting affections, colds, rheamatism, dyspepsia, overwork and nervous debility are chief causes. When thus ailing seek prompt relief. It can be found best if Brown's Iron Bitters. It builds up from the foundation by making the blood rich and pure. Leading physicians and ministers use and recommend it. It has cured many, and if you are a sufferer, try it.

A NOTED SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER. Visit to the City of Mrs. Kennedy, of Phila-

Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, who has been spending a few days in Atlanta on her homeward trip from the Georgia State Sunday-school association, which was held at Branswick last week, leaves for home this morning.

Mrs. Kennedy is perhaps one of the most successful Sunday-school teachers and instructors in the United States. She is one of the successful Sunday-school teachers and instruc-tors in the United States. She is one of the best of the corps of lecturers at Mont Eagle, and is loved by every one who knows her. She has for many years edited a number of Baptist Sunday-school publications which are in general use by the Sunday-schools of that church.

church.

Mrs. Kennedy's visit bere was under the direct auspices of the Fulton County Sunday-school association, but the efficials of the state association were anxious to have her visit other points than Brunswick, and hurried stops have been made by her at Savannah and Atlanta as the result of their plans. Mrs. Kennedy has made many friends in Georgia on this her first visit, all of whom will look forward with the greatest interest to another opportunity of meeting her again. As announced in The Constitutions he held two another opportunity of meeting her again. As announced in THE CONSTITUTION she held two meetings for teachers while she was in the city, at the Church of the Redeemer, both of which were well attended and enjoyed by the Early in 1869 he was sent to Louisville, Kentneky, to start the railway, ostofice service on the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Returning to Philadelphia a few years afterwards, he was employed in railroad office work until 1873 or '4 he was stricken with paralysis and incapacitated for active labor. He then commenced the manufacture of cosmetics, in which he was exceptionally successful, considering the disadvantages under which he labored. Mr. Hunter gradually became more and m.r.e. helpless until, when last seen by Atlanta friends three years ago, he could not help hunself in the least, and was practically a dead man with the exception of his head, his brain being as active as ever, and being able to direct his large business successfully until three weeks ago, when he was confined to his bed. Mr. Hunter had a number of friends in this city and in Chattanooga who will regret to hear of his death. He leaves a wife and one daughter.

A USELESS OFFICE IS CREATED BY PUBLIC PRINT

FOR THE BENEFIT OF A LATE RI

ector of Georgia Still Held in the Treasury Department

WASHINGTON, May 16.-[Special.]-Pu Printer Palmer has discovered a scheme rill materially assist the administration loing away with the surplus problem, name by disseminating it. Mr. Benedict's succestoday created an entirely new office, which hitherto not existed, and who, he calls, "si intendent of printing"—a position that mu in the nature of things, be more or less a sit cure. The public printer gets a balk appriation, and the only restriction in the mat of salary is that relating to work done by the bank. The solaries of piece or by the hour. The salaries of more responsible employes are fixed at the creation of the public printer. Here fore the chief officer under the pub printer has been the fereman of printer has been the fereman of printer ing, who received a salary of $2.1

Each separate department has a forem and the duties of the general foreman vertely supervisory. Now Mr. Palmer step and creates an entirely new office-one that not only unnecessary, but useless, and attack to the position a salary of $2,500 per annual The office of foreman of printing is continu and there is no more need of both than to ha two public printers. The good position in to office has, by rumor, been assigned to the la candidate for public printer. A big deal be evidently been made, and the old barnac who hung on the office during previous repu lican administrations are now the closest visers of Mr. Palmer in his re-organization the office. The good old days when fortun printing office appear to be again at hand.

Clark E. Carr, of Illinois, appointed to be minister to Denmark, is a leading republican, about fifty-five years of age, living at Galesburg, where he has been postmaster. He was prominent in the last campaign, and at the incoming of the present administration was a strong candidate for the office of first assistant postmaster-general.

Henry W. Severance, of California, made consul general to Honolulu for years has been identified with the Sandwich islands. His father was editor and proprietor of the Kennebeck Journal when Secretary Blaine made his entrance to public life. He was minister to Hawaii, and his son has been consul at San Francisco for the Hawaiian government, about whose affairs he is thorough informed. He is about fifty years of age.

John Jarrett, who goes as consul to Birmingham, is well known from his long connection with the steel and iron industries, which influenced his selection as consul to Birmingham, the centor of this trade. He is secretary of one of the largest associations of metal workers in the United States. He has been prominently before the public as an earnest worker for protection.

Thomat H. Sherman, who was selected as before the public as an earnest worker for prolection.

Thoma: H. Sherman, who was selected as consul to Liverpool, is credited to the District, of Columbia, where he has lived for many years, although he came originally from Maine.
He was a telegraph eperator, and became private secretary to Blaine, when the latter was speaker of the house of representatives in 1869.
He retained the same connection during Blaine's term in the senate, and his former administration of the state department.
After Blaine's retirement from public life, Sherman continued in the department, where he was attached to the consular bureau. He has acted as private secretary to Secretary Blaine since March 4th of the current year.

Montana Democratic. Sr. Paut, Minn., May 16.—A Helena special says the republicans concede the control of the Montana constitutional convention to the democrats by from three to five majority. The Herald (rep.) figures the convention at 38 democrats, 35 republicans, one labor and one independent, but this is partly estimated. One district at Missoula is so close that the official count will be needed to decide the election. The vote was light, to which fact the republicans ascribe their defeat.

He Fell Eighty-five Feet.

Biramischam, Ala., May 16.—[Special.]— Meddie Manifee, a laborer at furnace No. 4 of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Italiroad company (Ensley City plant) met a terrible death at a late hour last night. He went up on the ore elevator between 12 and 1 o'clock, and was engaged in dumping some ore into the receiver. He turned toward the elevatorway, but was overcome with gas and fell just before he reached the elevator. Instead of landing on the elevator he fell under it and was plunged to the ground below, a distance i eighty-five fect. He was terribly bruised bout the head and bteast, and his neck was aroken. He Fell Eighty-five Feet.
